

It is that time of year again.

Fall is here, the colors are changing, and we have made some exciting changes! The RRVCB has teamed up with the Republic Chamber to open an office in the heart of downtown Republic! The new location address is 600 S Clark Avenue. We believe this physical office space will provide great opportunities for our local businesses and events that we know locals and visitors enjoy.

The pandemic has caused many changes and meeting safely is on many people's minds. Our new office is large and open, making it easy to meet while staying a safe distance from one another. It is quiet (other than the sounds of our bustling economy) so hearing each other will not be a problem either. We will have information available for visitors in this new office, and we hope to have volunteers staff it part time.

We are working on securing funds to be able to build a great website; with that we can easily link to all of our area's local events, and be able to track where traffic is coming from and what interests folks most. This will help us better target our advertising for each event. We also believe this can help us all come together and pool our limited resources to ensure maximum attendance to our area and events with less cost to procure each new visitor.

2020 has been tough. We need to hit the ground running in 2021! We have pre-paid advertisement for digital advertising that covers the Seattle area, as well as annual and monthly free publications that will cover the greater Spokane, Coeur D'Alene, the Okanogan, and Palouse areas. All together these advertisements will reach close to a million outdoor enthusiasts; these are people with expendable income who are looking to experience places like Ferry County!

We all are in the this together! Together we will succeed!

Please join us now so we can make 2021 a great start to our economic future!
